THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

POLITICAL SENTIMENT IN GEORGIA.

The telegraph a few days since stated that the recent letters of Messrs. Johnson, Hill and Perry "have shaken the faith of many heretofore in favor of organization under the military bill," and that "it is said that the anti-convention idea is becoming more popular with the people of Georgia."

We reprint the following extracts from a speech of Hon. B. H. Hill, at Atlanta, a few days since, as having, to some extent, the ideas which have effected the change referred to:

"How many people in Atlanta belong to the "Loyal League?" [Laughter.] I warn all decent men to abandon such dens. I know the times have been such that many good men have naturally gone astray. But save yourselves before it is too late! Destroy all the evidences of your membership—bind all your comrades to mutual concealment of the fact that you were members and come out. You are pardonable for the past; but if you continue you will be covered with shame, and your very children will disown you. [Applause.] Come, join the Patriot's League. Our only pledge is to support the Constitution—love its friends and hate its enemies, and proclaim our love and hatred at noonday and from the house-tops. Save yourselves now, or be forever lost to decent society and your own self respect. All the brave and true men, even at the North, respect me this day more than they do you. The Radicals will use, but even they will despise, the Southern man who becomes their sycophant.

My colored friends, will you receive a word of admonition? Of all the people, you will most need the protection of the law. You will most suffer by anarchy and usurpation. Do you believe that the man who is faithless to the Constitution of the country will be faithful to you? If a man will take an oath to support the Constitution and then violate it, can you rely upon his keeping any promise to you? No; I tell you such people are friends to nothing but their own interest. They are betrayers of the Constitution to keep themselves in office; they desire to use you to help them get office, (applause,) and they will betray you whenever they find it to their interest to do so.

They tell you they are your friends. It is false; they are your very worst enemies.—They tell you they set you free. It is false. These vile creatures, who come among you and put themselves on a level with you, never went with the army except to steal spoons, jewelry and gold watches. (Great applause.) They are too low to be brave. They are dirty spawn, cast out from decent society, who come down here and seek to use you to further their own base purposes.

They promise you lands, and teach you to hate the Southern people, whom you have known always, and who never deceived you. Are you foolish enough to believe that you can get another man's land for nothing, and that the white people will give up their land without resistance?

If you get up strife between your race and the white race, do you not know you must perish? You are now ten to one the weaker race. You will grow weaker every day. You can have no safety but in the Constitution, and no peace except by cultivating relations of kindness with those who are fixed here, who used your services, and who are willing to protect you.

The same experiment which is now being attempted with you by those Northern knaves who seek your votes was attempted by similar people in France for the negroes in Hayti. They passed laws to give the negroes political equality—abolish all distinctions of color—and what is the result? There was first a war of classes; then a war between the blacks and mulattoes on the other. Then there was a war between the blacks and mulattoes, and neither white, black nor mulatto have ever seen peace or prosperity in Hayti since.

These men intend your extermination.—Some of them are writing books in favor of your extermination, and I have myself heard some of them avow that you ought to be exterminated or driven from the country.—These are the same people whose fathers found the Indians here. They declared the earth was the Lord's and belonged to his saints, and that they were his saints. Then they killed and drove off the poor Indian and took his lands. If you do not make and keep friends of the Southern people your fate is that of the Indians! Woe to your race! You well know your race is not prepared to vote. Why do you care to do what you do not understand? Improve yourselves. Learn to read and write; be industrious; lay up your means; acquire homes; live in peace with your neighbors; and drive off, as you would a serpent, the miserable, dirty adventurers who come among you, and who, being too low to be received into white society, seek to foment among you hatred for the decent portion of the white race. You can always know a gentleman, whether from the North or South, and all such respect and esteem—for such will not deceive you. Do not desire to vote until you are qualified to vote, and then look for the right to be given, not in a manner that violates the Constitution, but in accordance with it, and through your own State Governments. I feel more deeply for you than I do for the white race. White people ought to know better than to disregard the laws and expect any good. But you do not know the laws; you do not understand deceivers.

I am willing, anxious to welcome among us good and true men from the North, who come to help build up our country, and add to its prosperity. I wish they would come on and come in multitudes. They will find us friends. But when I see the low dingy creatures—hatched from the venomous eggs of treason—coming here as mere adventurers to get offices through negro votes—to ride into power on the deluded negro's shoulders—and creeping into secret leagues with negroes and a few renegade Southern whites, and talking flippantly about disfranchising the wisest and best men of the land, because they know it is the only possible chance for knaves and fools like themselves to get place, I can but feel ashamed that such monsters are to be considered as belonging to the human species. I warn you, my colored friends, if you would be respectable in society, or prosperous in your purse, or decent in your own feelings, to avoid all such people. They will hug you and call you friend, and talk about your friends, but they will pull you down to degradation, to sorrow, to poverty and to shame. They have white skins but black hearts, and will ruin your characters if you associate with them. They are creatures born of political accidency and treasonable conspiracy, and are the enemies of all good governments and of all decent people.—[Applause.]

And now, my friends of all races, of all colors, of all nations, of all sexes, of all ages—let us resolve to stand by our Constitution, and surrender it to no enemy. This is our country. Let us resolve that we will never be driven from it nor ostracised in it.

RECONSTRUCTION,—SUPPLEMENTAL BILL NO. 2.

PASSED AT THE JULY SESSION.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That it is hereby declared to have been the true intent and meaning of the act of the second day of March, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, entitled an act for the more efficient government of the rebel States, and of the act supplementary thereto, passed on the 24th. day of March, in the year 1867, that the governments then existing in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas and Arkansas were illegal and void, and thereafter the same governments, if continued, were to be continued subject in all respects to the military commanders of the respective Districts and to the authority of Congress.

SECTION 2. And be it further enacted, That the commander of any district named in said act shall have power, subject to the approval of the General of the armies of the United States, to have effect till disapproved, whenever in the opinion of snch commander the proper administration of said act shall require it, to suspend or remove from office, or from the performance of official duties and the exercise of official powers, any officer or person holding or exercising, or professing to hold or exercise, any civil or military office or duty in such district, under any power, election, appointment, or authority derived from or granted by, or claimed under any so-called State or the government thereof, or any municipal or other division thereof, and upon such suspension or removal such commander, subject to the approval of the General aforesaid, shall have the power to provide from time to time for the performance of the said duties of such officer or person so suspended or removed, by the detail of some competent officer or soldier of the army or by the appointment of some other person to perform the same, and to fill vacancies occasioned by death, resignation or otherwise.

SECTION 3. And be it further enacted, That the General of the armies of the United States shall be invested with all the powers of suspension, removal, appointment and detail granted in the preceding section to district commanders.

SECTION 4. And be it further enacted, That the acts of the officers of the army already done in removing in said districts persons exercising the functions of civil officers and appointing others in their stead are hereby confirmed; provided that any person heretofore or hereafter appointed by any district commander to exercise the functions of any civil office may be removed, either by the military officer in command of the district or by the General of the army; and it shall be the duty of commanders to remove from office, as aforesaid, all persons who are disloyal to the government of the United States, or who use their official influence in any manner to hinder, delay, prevent or obstruct the due and proper administration of this act, and the acts to which this is supplementary.

SECTION 5. And be it further enacted, That the boards of registration provided for in the act entitled "an act supplementary to an act entitled 'an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,'" passed March 2, eighteen hundred and sixty-seven, shall have power, and it shall be their duty, before allowing the registration of any person, to ascertain upon such facts or information as they can obtain, whether such person is entitled to be registered under said act, and the oath required by said act shall not be conclusive on such question, and no person shall be registered unless such board shall decide that he is entitled thereto; and such board shall also have power to examine under oath (to be administered by any member of such board) any one touching the qualification of any person claiming registration. But in every case of a refusal by the board to register an applicant, made in every case hereinafter provided, the board shall make a note or memorandum, which shall be returned with the registration list to the commanding Generals of the Districts, setting forth the ground of such refusal, or such striking from the list: Provided, that no person shall be disqualified, as a member of any board of registration, by reason of race or color.

SECTION 6. And be it further enacted, That the true intent and meaning of the oath prescribed in said supplementary act is (among other things) that no person who has been a member of the Legislature of any State or who has held any executive or judicial office in any State, whether he has taken an oath to support the Constitution of the United States or not, and whether he was holding such office at the commencement of the rebellion or had held it before, and who has afterward engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof, is entitled to be registered or to vote; and the words "executive or judicial office in any State" in said oath mentioned shall be construed to include all civil offices created by law for the administration of the general law of the State, or for the administration of justice.

SECTION 7. And be it further enacted, That the time for completing the original registration provided for in said act may, in the discretion of the commander of any district, be extended to the 1st. day of October, 1867; and the boards of registration shall have power, and it shall be their duty, commencing fourteen days prior to any election under said act, and upon reasonable public notice of the time and place thereof, to revise for a period of three days the registration lists; and upon being satisfied that any person not entitled thereto has been registered, to strike the name of such person from the list. And such board shall also during the same period, add to such registry the names of all persons who at that time possess the qualifications required by said act who have not been already registered, and no person shall at any time be entitled to be registered or to vote by reason of any executive pardon or amnesty for any act or thing which, without such pardon or amnesty, would disqualify him from registration or voting.

SECTION 8. And be it further enacted, That section 4 of the said last-named act shall be construed to authorize the commanding general named therein, whenever he shall deem it needful, to remove any member of a board of registration, and to appoint another person in his stead, and to fill any vacancy in such board.

SECTION 9. That all members of said Boards of Registration and all persons hereafter elected or appointed to office in said military districts, under any so-called State or municipal authority or by detail or appointment of the District Commanders, shall be required to take and subscribe to the oath of office prescribed by law for officers of the United States.

SECTION 10. That no District Commander or member of the Board of registration or any of the officers or appointees acting under them shall be bound in his action by any opinion of any civil officer of the United States.

SECTION 11. That all the provisions of this act, and the acts to which this is supplementary, shall be construed liberally, to the end that all the intents thereof may be fully and perfectly carried out.

WM. E. PELL, | SEATON GALES, EDITORS.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 2, 1867.

REGISTRATION—THE CONVENTION—THE DUTY.

We have reason to believe that but few days now will intervene, before General Sickles will issue his instructions to Registrars and direct them to commence their labors. Previous to opening the books of registration, however, ten days' notice thereof must be given, according to the law, for the information of the people. After registration is commenced, it must be completed by the first day of October.

We beg, therefore, to repeat and urge the suggestion, which we presented on yesterday, that duly qualified candidates for the Convention shall announce themselves, or be brought out, forthwith. Of course, all other things being at all equal, we should greatly prefer, in every instance, to have Conservatives in the field; but when such cannot be induced to come out, we trust that our friends, who may be allowed to vote, will unite in support of some moderate Republican, who is known to be opposed to the violent and malignant purposes of ultra-Radicalism. We have several such in the State, whom we would be perfectly willing to trust with the solution of our difficulties and the rehabilitation of the State Government. We could designate some, by name, who are as inimical to the vile and fiendish designs of the Holden wing of the party, as we can possibly be. They are, as an invariable rule, to be found in the ranks of the bona fide consistent Unionists, who have never faltered or wavered; while, quite as invariably, the persecuting, malevolent and oppressive men in the State are new converts, "latter-day saints," old negro-abusers and blatant Yankee haters and secessionists.

We should deplore it, as a great calamity, that any considerable number of our white citizens should fail to register and to vote. We need feel no apprehension on the score of the colored vote. Under the active and secret agencies that are at work, it will be fully brought out. We should regret it, we say, as a terrible evil, that indifference, disgust, despair, or any other reason, should produce the same failure to register, here, which has irretrievably surrendered Virginia, probably, and Alabama and Louisiana, almost certainly, into the hands of the Radicals and the negroes. In the first place, the injury thus done ourselves may be irremediable; it may result in our permanent disfranchisement,—for no one can doubt that if the Brownlowites in North Carolina obtain an ascendancy in the Convention, they will inaugurate just such a system of proscription as that which has been fastened upon Tennessee by their patron saint and great exemplar. In the second place, we want no slip, this time, if it can be with honor avoided. We are for reconstruction, on the basis of the military acts, in the hope, however faint that hope may be, that a literal compliance with the terms will bring us freedom from turmoil, agitation, perplexing doubts and harrassing fears. We want, therefore, all the qualified white voters of the State to be in a position to vote in favor of the ratification of the State Constitution, that may be adopted by the Convention, and thus command the necessary majority therefor, if the extreme Radical managers, dissatisfied with that Constitution, shall seek to defeat it, as, in that event, they certainly would. And we will go farther and say, that if it is such a Constitution as would degrade and ruin us forever by its acceptance, we want to have enough registered voters to kill it.

In the present state of the public temper, or rather in the existing passivity of the popular mind, there is every reason to fear that our people, like those of the other Southern States in which registration has been progressing, will fail to appreciate the importance of registration, unless urgent, strenuous and practical appeals to the discharge of that duty are constantly made to them. Let us, at once, then, and throughout the State, have intelligent, honest, patriotic men in the field, who will impress day by day, upon all our people, the solemn necessity of registering and voting.

We repeat that our advice in this matter is prompted by the fact that, as matters stand, we see no other prospect, however faint this prospect may be, of a speedy settlement of our national troubles, than upon the conditions imposed by Congress. We regard peace and restoration of some sort as essential to the happiness, welfare, even the lives, of our people. But while such are our views, we put on record our solemn conviction, that the granting of universal suffrage and the right of holding civil office, irrespective of qualification or merit, is fraught with nothing but danger to the country. Nevertheless, we proclaim ourselves as unflinching friends of real freedom to all, and of everything that is essential to its proper maintenance.

HOW THE THING IS WORKING.—The Richmond correspondent of the New York Herald has the following, which is true of many other localities besides that of Richmond:

"I was lately struck by the disposition the blacks are manifesting to throw off the patronizing leadership of the whites and strike out for themselves under the guidance of men of their own color. I overheard one negro remark to another the other day, as Wardwell, the prospective nominee for Mayor, passed by:—"Dere goes dat ole beat Wardwell. He wants to row in our boat bad, but I think all such is played out wid us." There are men among the negroes here who are every inch as intelligent and as competent to guide the destiny of their race as any of the whites who associate with them. Aware of the gradually growing feeling of independence on the part of the blacks, I am sanguine it will be impossible for the radicals to oppose them unless they abuse the offices."

BUYERS AND SELLERS OF N. C BONDS.

At the suggestion of a friend, we give the following hints to the public, who may be interested in N. C. Bonds:

"N. C. Bonds" simply, without any remark, in the language of the Stock Exchange Brokers, means old N. C. Bonds, with coupons attached from July 1st, 1861.

"New bonds" means bonds issued since the war, with coupons attached from 1st. July 1866, inclusive, i. e. three coupons of $30 each.

"Bonds ex-coupons" means old bonds, with coupons attached from July 1, 1866, inclusive, i. e. three coupons.

If either coupon is lacking, it is counted worth $30, not its market value.

We caution our readers against buying coupon State bonds, which have been registered in the State Treasury, unless those bonds have been properly re-transferred to bearer. Otherwise, they are not negotiable by delivery.

We are informed that, during the war, some State bonds, the property of the late Gen. Branch, of Urias Bancom, and perhaps others, were stolen, as alleged, by Federal soldiers, and are now in circulation. All bonds of this class are estopped and are not negotiable on delivery, and as the Public Treasurer has been duly notified not to pay them, the purchasers of them will find themselves deceived.

Those bonds on which writing has been erased, should be avoided, unless the Public Treasurer is consulted and pronounces them all right. These suggestions are important, to avoid error and loss.

GENERAL SICKLES.

Whatever may be the opinion of persons as to the legitimacy of the causes which led the Congress to adopt the Reconstruction Acts, and to place the Southern States under the military rule, it is nevertheless the duty of all to respect and obey those to whom has been committed the duty of executing the laws. The District Commander and the Commanders of the several posts are entitled to this, nor should any one feel at liberty to speak disparagingly of them.

For some time, there has been a manifest disposition, in North Carolina Radicals of a certain stamp, to decry and speak lightly of Gen. Sickles. This has been marked, since Gen. Sickles, out of respect to the President of the United States, visited Raleigh, and rendered to him, and to Gov. Worth, due courtesy. This has, by no means, been lessened, but rather increased, since Gen. Sickles' letter to Mr. Trumbull was published, in which he nobly asserted and sustained the necessity for a general amnesty. We learn that those very fellows, (gentlemen we cannot call them,) who denounce many of our best citizens as traitors and disloyal, use language in reference to Gen. Sickles, which indicates a disposition to denounce him, if they dared to do it, as a traitor and disloyal, also.

TENNESSEE.—At the election which occurred in Tennessee, on yesterday, a Governor, eight members of Congress, a State Legislature and a Superintendent of Public Instruction were to be chosen.

Brownlow and Hon. Emerson Etheridge, it is well known, were the Gubernatorial candidates. For Superintendent of Public Instruction the candidates were John Eaton, Jr., Radical, and Charles S. Cameron, Democrat. The Radical candidates for Congress are: 1st district, R. R. Butler; 2d, Horace Maynard, (for re-election;) 3d, William Stokes, (for re-election;) 4th, James Mullins; 5th, John Trimble; 6th, Samuel M. Arnell, (for re-election;) 7th, Isaac R. Hawkins, (for re-election;) 8th, David A. Nunn. The Democratic candidates, in numerical order of districts, 1 to 8, are: James White, John Williams, Eli G. Fleming, Edward Cooper, (for re-election,) Bailie Peyton, Dudley B. Thomas, W. P. Caldwell, John W. Leftwich, (for re-election.) The Legislature chosen will elect a United States Senator in place of Judge Patterson, son-in-law of President Johnson, whose term expires on the 4th of March next.

WHAT THEY DRINK IN HAWAII.—The Sandwich Islands correspondent of the New York Herald, writing from Honolulu, under date of June 3, furnishes the following item:

"The Insane Asylum is under the management of Dr. Edward Hoffman, and has at present twenty-eight inmates—four foreigners and twenty-four natives. The Doctor states that the result of his research and experience proves that awa, indulged in to excess, is a fruitful cause of insanity among Hawaiians. The awa is a pungent, acrid compound, in a liquid form, made from a root of that name, which produces intoxication. It is prepared by girls or women generally, who chew it until the juice is expressed and mixed with the saliva, when it is spit into a bowl or calabash, and the process continued until enough is prepared for a good, big drink. The very general use of awa by the natives alarmed the government some years since, and the sale was restricted by issuing a limited number of licences to sell it, and then only to such parties as could bring a certificate from a physician to the effect that it was for medical purposes, for which certificate the physician might charge twenty-five cents. To show what a farce and mockery the law is made by parties who claim to be respectable, I will state that these certificates, prepared and signed by the hundred, are furnished to any one offering the fee. The principal sales are made on Saturdays, when the natives prepare for a drunken Sunday."

Advices from San Louis Potosi, Mexico, are received to the 15th instant. Maximilian's counsellor has been arrested. The subalterns of the imperial army have been released, and the remaining Queretaro generals will be sent to their respective States for trial. A long letter has been published in General Diaz's organ, to show that some one in the capital, probably Marquez, detained Maximilian's letters after he was captured, and thus prevented the earlier arrival of his counsel at Queretaro. The full letter of Escobedo against foreigners is published, and is, if anything, more bloodthirsty and barbarous than was at first believed. He speaks of becoming a candidate for some office, and defines the letter as his unalterable platform. Lopez, the betrayer of Queretaro, who had been pardoned by Juarez, is still liable to a trial in Oaxaca for crimes committed there, and the opinion in Matamoras was that he would be executed under the charges.

Wilkes County Correspondence.

WILKESBORO', July 28th, 1867.

EDITORS SENTINEL:—I notice in the Raleigh Standard, of the 17th inst., a base and mendacious attempt, by two anonymous writers of this vicinity and an editorial of Mr. Holden's, to prejudice the minds of the people, and especially the military authorities, against me and the citizens of Wilkesboro', by giving an account, which has no foundation in truth, of an affair which occurred here on the 4th inst. To counteract the evil thus sought to be done, I ask space in your paper to give a plain and truthful account of this whole matter; as I have already done to Col. Edie, whom I met at Yadkin Court,—"extenuating naught, and setting down naught in malice."

About two weeks previous to the 4th, some of my friends, feeling a deep anxiety that all persons entitled to vote under the Reconstruction Acts should understand their rights, before the time for registration commenced, requested me to address the people of Wilkes, of all colors, in explanation of the opinion of the Attorney General, then just issued. I consented, and the people were called together. Strenuous efforts were made, by the leaders of the black Republicans, to keep the negroes away from this meeting, for, as they hold their white men in the South only by the base motives of cupidity and fear, so they know that they hold the negroes only by their ignorance.—But a large crowd of both colors attended, and after I was through speaking, C. J. Cowles and Rev. Alfred Stokes (one white and the other colored, but both Republicans) were called for and came forward to address the meeting. To this nobody objected, and they were heard to the end, respectfully and attentively.

At the close of the meeting, Cowles and Stokes both announced to the people that there would be a Republican meeting, in the Court House, on the ensuing 4th, which would be free for everybody, and both of them turned to me and asked me to be present and to participate in it; and so our meeting passed off quietly.

A few days afterward, Holden had an editorial in the Standard, in his usual "magnificent" style; showing how C. J. Cowles, white, and Rev. Alfred Stokes, colored, had entered the rebel meeting in Wilkesboro', and, by their powerful logic, burning eloquence, flashing wit and withering sarcasm, had overwhelmed, discomfited, and annihilated the 'rebel' orator. And nobody felt much hurt at all this.

When the meeting assembled on the 4th, I did not intend to address it, but was sitting quietly in my office, as the meeting proceeded, until several of the most respectable citizens of the County came to me and requested me to go out and address the meeting. To this I replied that I supposed they had orators enough in the Court House to consume all the time allotted; but they insisted that the Republican orators would soon be through, and that the people generally wanted to hear me. I finally consented to go out,—no one ever supposing that there would be the least objection to my speaking, after I had been invited.

I went in and quietly took my seat among the audience. R. M. Smith, who considers himself a leader among the Republicans, came to me and asked me if I did not want to speak. I told him that I did, but I wanted to wait until he and all his friends were through, for I wanted to interrupt no one.

J. Q. A. Bryant and Rev. A. Stokes spoke after I entered. Stokes threw in a few hot shot into the region where the powder was stored, and came very near producing an explosion. He doubted the sincerity of the orators who had preceded him, in their professions of love for the negro; asked them if they were willing to go home with him and sleep with him that night; or ask him to set down to their tables? He declared that the republican party had not prosecuted the war to free the negro; but Mr. Lincoln, in 1862, had declared, in his proclamation, that, if the rebels would lay down their arms, they might keep their slaves, &c. Now, this was too much for the weak-stomached brethren, who had already taken so much negro and black republicanism on their stomachs, that they could hardly keep it down. Bryant rose and charged that Stokes had been put up to say these things by some rebel. This, Stokes indignantly denied, and went on to advise his negro friends to love their old masters and neighbors of the South and regard them as their best friends. This was in striking contrast to the speeches of Bryant and Smith, who labored all through their remarks to plant the seeds of discord and revenge in the bosoms of their negro hearers against their white neighbors, among whom they must live! If the remarks of Stokes had not made these leaders so angry, I have no idea that any one would have objected to my speaking.

At the conclusion of his remarks, a number of persons were called for by the crowd, R. M. Smith, Gideon Smoot, A. S. Calloway, Esq., &c., and all declined, and my friends, thinking that no one else would speak, called for me. I advanced toward the President's seat, where all the orators had stood, and the Chairman of the meeting, Col. Gideon Smoot, arose, took me by the hand, and pulled me up over the railing, and told me to stand by his table. I commenced speaking and had just got the attention of the audience, when the Rev. Samuel Smith arose and interrupted me, saying that he objected to my speaking there. Several voices cried out that I should speak. I turned to the President, Colonel Smoot, and he said he wanted to hear me speak, and was just going to call on me, when the people called for me. By this time, there was great confusion in the house, and some two or three men had gone out and procured pistols and came in the house and held them in their hands, but presented them at no one that I saw. I am sure that none of my friends, when they first came into the house, were armed, for they anticipated no disturbance; and the few, that had arms at all, procured them after the difficulty commenced, and after, as I am informed and believe, several of the "Heroes of America" had drawn their knives and slipped them, open, up their sleeves. It is utterly false, that any one in Wilkesboro, or, so far as I know or believe, in Wilkes County, of those whom the Standard and its correspondents call "Rebel"—which means every one who has not bowed down and licked the footstool of Black Republicanism—goes armed at all, or carries arms upon any occasion. Every body is obeying General Sickles' orders here in regard to arms, except a few of the "Heroes of America."

After the confusion became great in the Court House, Col. Smoot mounted the table and called loudly for order and asked me to assist him in quieting the people. This I attempted to do, but could not. Col. Smoot then proposed to me that he would adjourn the meeting and all should go out and hear me from the steps of the Court House. To this I assented, and Col. Smoot did adjourn the meeting, and I went down and addressed the public from the steps. A few of the most frantic of the Heroes stayed up stairs, and endeavored to interrupt me by singing, dancing and yelling, whilst I was speaking. As for anybody "holding the Court House by force," "driving" anybody "out," &c., &c., as stated in the Standard's correspondence, they are all fictions, worthy only of the Standard. I heard no one object to my speaking in the meeting, except S. P. Smith, sr., and R. M. Smith, one of whom had just asked me if I did not want to speak. On the contrary, most of the respectable and consistent Union men, who were present, came to me, either in the Court House, or after I went out, and expressed their disapprobation of the course of the Smiths, and charged them with being the cause of all the difficulty; among whom I may mention Harrison Church, Adam Staley, and might mention many others. Samuel Smith, jr., and Alfred Stokes both expressed their regret that any one should have objected to my speaking.

Some hour or two after the difficulty at the Court House ended, there were two or three fights in the streets, between men who were excited by liquor and the occurrences of the day. The fights were with fists, sticks, rocks, &c.; no deadly weapons were used, as falsely stated in the Standard's correspondence, except in a fight between three negroes and a young man by the name of Forester, whose politics I do not know, in which Forester cut one of the negroes with a Barlow knife. The "poor crippled Negro," over whom the Standard moans so pathetically, was on the other side. He ran in and whaled a Hero of America over the head with his crutch, who was fighting his young master, and the "Poor Negro" is denounced here as a "rebel," and threatened with military arrest! Magistrates have issued warrants for the parties engaged, and they are all bound over to Court for trial.

I have given you a full and fair account of this whole matter. If the Standard wants to do justice to men, whom he has endeavored to injure, he will copy this statement, for the truth of which I refer to every respectable Union man who was present. But the object of the Standard is to seize upon every little fist fight that may happen in the State, to swell the false cry which he has been making, ever since the people refused him for their Governor, that the people of this State are disloyal, oppress Union men, and have no regard for order, that he may have the pleasure of seeing the people of his State dragged to distant military posts, to be tried for trivial or imaginary offences,—well knowing that the expense of such a trial will ruin them, though they may be acquitted. This, to such a man as Holden, will be sweet re venge.

EDUCATIONAL.

PITTSBORO', July 29th, 1867.

Messrs. Editors:—The subject of this communication will, I trust, be a sufficient apology for trespassing upon your valuable time and the patience of your many readers. The South, although defeated in the appeal to arms, has again entered the lists to contend for the mastery of the mind. Her brave and gallant sons, though driven from the "tented field," under the leadership of the peerless Lee, have retired to the cool shades and quiet walls of our seminaries of learning, and are there struggling with equal ardor in the glorious work of Education.—What a wondrous change, to see the battle-scarred veteran, the victor of many bloody fields, throwing aside the sword to assume the gown of the Professor, and teaching "the young idea how to shoot!" Under the new regime, we should strain every nerve for the more general diffusion of knowledge and learning, and we will, more than ever before, realize that "knowledge is power."

How delightful and refreshing it is, to leave for a short while the busy bustle and turmoil of the outer world, and retire to the cool groves where sparkle our founts of learning, and there, forgetting all care and trouble, enjoy the "feast of the intellectual," as the suffering traveller, toiling o'er some barren waste, leaves for a moment the beaten pathway, to regale and refresh his wearied body by the cool waters of some sparkling streamlet. Such a pleasure have we lately enjoyed in attending the exercises of the second annual Commencement of the "Pittsboro' Scientific Academy." This institution, situated in the very centre of the State, in a section remarkable alike for its elegant society and delightful climate, is under the superintendence of C. B. Denson (a distinguished officer of the Engineer Corps of the late C. S. Army,) and is rapidly, and most deservedly so, rising in the estimation of its numerous friends and patrons. In its high and scientific standard of instruction it ranks second to none in the entire South.

The Commencement exercises began on the evening of the 24th, with the declamations of the "Juniors," who acquitted themselves in a manner alike creditable to themselves and instructors. On Thursday morning, the annual sermon was preached by the Rev. Geo. W. Langhorne, of Richmond, Va., and, from the deep interest and almost breathless attention of so large an audience, we are sure the eloquent words of the "man of God" sunk deep in the hearts of many.

Thursday evening we had the pleasure of hearing the declamation and compositions by the young ladies, who, of course, did well, and fully realized the hopes of their friends. Friday morning, the "Seniors" delivered original orations, reflecting the highest honor upon their maiden (?) efforts. In the afternoon, the soul was feasted with a Poem by that talented son of the "Old North State," T. H. Hill, Esq., prepared expressly for the occasion, and let me assure you it fully equalled the occasion. I cannot find words adequate to express a due appreciation of the beauties of the Poem.

His Excellency, Gov. Worth, was expected to deliver the honors of the term to the successful competitors, as he did last year, but the press of official business unfortunately prevented his attending. The very beautiful and brilliant display of fireworks at night was enjoyed by hundreds of delighted spectators, who had come from all quarters, in immense numbers; and though the writer of this has attended many Commencements at Chapel Hill, he has never seen, even there, such a large assembly as was collected upon this occasion,—for not only were there full delegations from more than half the counties of this State, but there were representatives from four other States.

After the display of fireworks, the young folks withdrew to the ball-room, where they paid honors to the memory of Terpsichore "till the wee hours of morning," and refreshed themselves upon the elegant supper so kindly prepared by the ladies in honor of the occasion. The fine band in attendance greatly enlivened the occasion with strains of the sweetest music, and the Marshals and Ball-Managers discharged their duties most gracefully and to the satisfaction of all, especially the ladies, to whom they presented their beautiful "Regalias." And we cannot but admire their good taste, especially the selection of Mr. ——. Thus endeth the second Annual Commencement of the Pittsboro' Scientific Academy. "May its shadow never grow less!" D. S. S.

The New York Herald says: Leading Conservatives in South Carolina, it is said, have proposed to the negroes of the State to assist in electing the latter's candidates for Congress, provided the blacks will give them the control of the State government.

The New York Commercial Advertiser is informed that several New England manufactures have united in a project to import several thousand coolies to do the work of the factories.

ALL STATE

RAILWAY LINES

FROM CHARLOTTE AND ALL POINTS ON THE N. C AND ITS CONNECTING RAIL ROADS TO THE SEABOARD AT WILMINGTON N. C, OR NORFOLK VA., via GOLDSBORO:

ALSO VIA PETERSBURG AND CITY POINT.

The Railways composing this all STATE RAILWAY line have recently agreed to unite in a route to all the Northern markets on equal terms and charges viâ our own ports, or by way of Norfolk or Petersburg Va., to and from the North.

No discrimination in favor of any place or city, only so far as to carry the great products of the State as well as return merchandise over the Railway lines largely owned by the State.

This arrangement, while it gives as great facilities and as cheap rates as by any other line, will aid in paying something into the State Treasury and into the common school fund, by which taxes will be lightened and the poor children educated. These are some of the reasons for a change of route to pass by Goldsboro.

The N. C. R. R., the Wil. & Weldon R. R., and the Seaboard and Roanoke Rail Road Companies, have agreed that all goods, not otherwise specially directed, shall pass by way of Goldsboro, for Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Boston, at the same rates and in the same time that they can be carried by any other route

This has been arranged and freight trains now run in close connection from Portsmouth to Charlotte.

No other Company gives the assured a guarantee of this character or anything equivalent.

Thirty days' of grace are allowed on all renewal premiums, and the policy remains valid and in full force during that time.

Notes are not required by this Company, but a loan may be obtained on the policy for one third of the annual premium, which is cancelled by the profits applied as dividends.

Joint policies, including man and wife, are issued by this Company, and the amount insured is payable to the survivor on the death of either. Our dividend, January 1st. 1866, was 45 per cent.

THE MILITARY COMMISSION.

UNITED STATES VS. TOLAR, POWERS AND WATKINS.

THURSDAY MORNING, August 1.

James Kindrick, sworn: Was at Market the day of Archy Bebee's trial and tried to go up and hear it but was prevented.—Stayed down below. Saw Tolar, Tom Powers, "Monk" and John Maltsby there, while Bebee was up stairs. There was considerable excitement in the crowd below.—Miss Massie and mother came down stairs first, accompanied by Mr. Bond. He and Powers went with them to the carriage that was waiting on the outside for them.—When Bebee was coming down, I heard Tolar remark "he hoped he would not have to shoot, but if he did, it would be a good shot." Just as Bebee was going out of the arch, I heard Tom Powers demand him of the Sheriff,—at the same time laying his hands on Bebee, which demand was refused by the Sheriff. Saw the man who fired the pistol that killed Bebee; it was Capt. Tolar; know him well; was standing near enough to him at the time to lay my hand on him. Witness was not standing on the side walk at the time. Saw Tolar a few moments after, standing against the wall of the market house. Saw "Monk" soon afterwards charging around. Mr. Nixon caught hold of him and told him to behave himself. At the time Bebee was shot, heard George Hollingsworth cry out, "Capt. Tolar shot him," "Capt. Tolar shot him."

Cross Examined: Received my subpœna last Saturday. Sam Phillips is a relation of mine, an uncle; my father married his sister. Have talked with him about it.

Know that Capt. Tolar, being a butcher, is frequently about the market house and transacts his business there. When Tolar made the remark about shooting, there was quite a crowd around him; don't recollect the name of any other person there at that time. Did not see anything in Tom Powers' hand, when he caught hold of Bebee. When Bebee was shot, Sheriff Hardie had his hand in Bebee's collar, and was standing in his rear and right; there were several persons between Tolar and Bebee, when the pistol fired. Tolar was on my left and front, and was about three steps off from the pavement,—four or five feet, and perhaps more. Can't say who was near him at that time. Saw Sam Phillips have a pistol there that day; he just had it in his hand. After we walked down to the store, about seventy five yards from them, uncle Sam showed me his pistol and told me "there was going to be trouble about this matter and there was his pistol;" it was a large size Remington pistol; he showed me no other "four barrelled" or "smaller pistol."

I can't swear I ever saw Tolar before that day.

Re-direct: The reason I have not talked with Sam Phillips, since I have been here, about what I was going to swear, is because you (prosecuting Counsel) told me not to.

The pistol Phillips had in the crowd, at the market house, was the same that he showed me at his store. Am certain that Tolar fired the pistol; could not be mistaken; am positive.

William Carpenter, sworn: Happened to pass through the market-house about the time Bebee was brought down stairs, and, soon after passing through, heard a pistol shot and turned round and saw Capt. Tolar come out of the crowd and have a pistol in his hand, which he was holding under his coat behind, or trying to put in his belt; saw him go up to the side of the market house and stop; saw him no more.

Cross examined: Saw the crowd, but my attention was not called until the pistol fired. I looked around and saw Tolar; he was coming out of the crowd and he seemed to be in the act of putting up a pistol. I did not see who fired the pistol. There was a large crowd there, white and black. The pistol I saw Tolar have was a repeater.

Duncan N. McLean, sworn: Am a school-teacher and live in Fayetteville. Am not a licensed preacher; was in Fayetteville when a negro was killed at the market house.—Was in Newberry's store; it is on Person Street, the second store from the market house. Was looking out of the window when the pistol fired; saw the flash and smoke, but did not see the pistol. Can't say who fired it; was in the crowd before the pistol fired, but don't recollect a single person who was there. Went after the shot was fired and looked at the dead negro; saw Hardie and one or two others there.

No cross-examination.

Court adjourned until to-day (Friday) 11 o'clock.

LT. DEWEESE.—Since our notice, on yesterday, we hear it stated on the street, (we do not know how correctly,) that Lt. Deweese has been put under arrest by General Sickles. The cause we have not learned.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Valuable property in the City of Raleigh for sale, (the store on Fayetteville Street, belonging to the estate of the late Mrs. Marling): Address W. K. Barham, Attorney for the Heirs, Warrenton, N. C.

Economical Pump and Well, Agricultural Ware-House: Mitchell, Allen & Co., Newbern.

Proposals for building a bridge across the Neuse: A. T. Mial, and others, Committee.

North Carolina All State Railway Lines: William Smith, Master of Transportation, Wilmington & Weldon R. R. Co. A highly important announcement.

Account Book Lost: David Williams, near Raleigh.

Situated wanted as Teacher: Address J. W. Boswell, Morganton, N. C.

It will be seen that Williams & Lambeth propose publishing a full stenographic report, (our's is but a meagre abstract,) of the case now progressing before the Military Commission in this City. We call attention to their announcement. The pamphlet will be full of interest to all classes in the community.

MAYOR'S COURT.—William Grant, colored, charged with committing an assault upon Edith Grant, colored, was returned to the County Court.

William Baringer, colored, charged with stealing a hand cart from Phil Thiem, and a lot of corn from Gen. Grimes, was returned to the Superior Court.

Havana Williams, colored, charged with making an assault upon Martha A. Brown, was returned to the County Court.

FINE PEACHES.—We are indebted to our friend, Dr. Perry, of the firm of Jenkins & Perry, Family Grocers, Fayetteville street, for some of the choicest peaches we have ever seen. We are not pomologists enough to know their species, but we do know they are very fine, and that Jenkins & Perry keep their fruit stand daily supplied with the most attractive varieties.

Messrs. B. P. Williamson & Co. have also sent us a specimen,—the "Baltimore Beauty,"—grown by Geo. W. Thompson, Esq.—It is a magnificent peach and weighs 8 ounces. Who can equal it?

INTEREST ON N. C. BONDS.—The Public Treasurer has issued, from June 1866 to the present time, new North Carolina Bonds to the amount of $2,219,100, in $1000, $500, and $100 bonds, for the payment of old bonds matured and interest past due on old bonds. These new bonds are as acceptable in the money market in New York as the old bonds. But why should they be, if North Carolina is not a State and her government is an illegal one? New York brokers are at least as keen as the politicians of Congress. The standing of public securities is about as good a test of the legal status of a State, which has any responsibility, as any other fact, and a far better test than the opinion of political partizans.

STATE ITEMS.

——The Convention of North Carolina and Virginia farmers, just held at Danville, was a successful and pleasant affair. We gave the first day's proceedings on yesterday. Under the constitution adopted, two fairs are to be held each year,—a tobacco fair in June and a general fair in October. The Executive Committee have already taken steps preparatory to a fair in October next.

——The Weldon State says that, on Saturday last, a Court of enquiry, Lieut. Cutler, U. S. A. presiding, was held in the town of Halifax, to investigate the conduct of Mr. Charles Webb, a magistrate of that county, in refusing to bail a negro, who was brought before him on a charge of larceny. The decision has not been made public. The negro was released from jail, however, upon his giving bail, of which Mr. Webb approved.

Mr. Webb committed the negro, in the first instance, because the parties offered as bail were not, in his opinion, responsible.

——Capt. Latham, of Craven, has sent to the Editor of the Journal of Commerce a lot of splendid peaches,—two of which weighed 11½ ounces. The peach crop, generally, in this State, was never finer than it is this year.

——The New York Christian Advocate, of the 18th., says that Rev. R. S. Moran, Presiding Elder of the Roanoke district, N. C. Conference of the M. E. Church, South, and Professor Southgate, President of Olin College, N. C., are spending a few days in that city. Mr. Moran is on a visit to his father, at Johnsonville, Ohio.

——The Weldon State says:

"It does seem that we are a people utterly without law, and certainly without order. On Saturday and Sunday last, the negroes were fighting and behaving in a most disgraceful manner, under the railroad shed, the most public place in town. No one seems to feel called on to stop these proceedings—neither magistrates, constables or town authorities."

PROBABLE REMOVAL OF GENERAL SHERIDAN.

Information received this morning from a source I have always found reliable leaves no doubt, I think, that General Sheridan will soon be removed from the command of the Fifth Military district. The President has resolved to assume the responsibility of this grave step, and it is said he is backed up in his determination by every member of the Cabinet, except Secretary Stanton. The subject, in all probability, will be discussed and settled at the Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

I am informed that General Hancock has been agreed upon as General Sheridan's successor, and that he is regarded by the President and Cabinet as a more fit man in every respect. It is known that the President's first choice for the Fifth district was General Sherman, but the latter preferring, like General Thomas, to remain in his then position, his feelings and predilections were regarded. The President never favored the appointment of Sheridan, but waived his own objections at the solicitation of General Grant, who pressed Sheridan's claims very warmly. It was thought, too, that the experience Sheridan had already gained in the department would be found valuable, and therefore he was retained in command and clothed with the power of military reconstructor.—Washington Cor. N. Y. Herald.

EXPORTS.

NEW YORK, August 1, M.

The exports from this city to foreign ports, exclusive of specie, for the six months ending June 30, were $111,000,000.

EXCITEMENT AMONG COTTON DEALERS.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1, M.

Considerable excitement exists here among cotton dealers, owing to the seizure of nearly all the stock by the Revenue officers. They seize all that is without tags, declaring that certificates of the payment of tax are not sufficient. The merchants assert that it is an attempt to levy black mail.

RICHMOND, Aug. 1,—M.

The Convention met this morning. There were about 5,000 persons present,—nearly all blacks. The African Church, upon being opened, was immediately filled. A motion was made to adjourn to the Capitol Square, which was carried. After arriving there, Hanxhurst, of Alexandria, was appointed temporary Chairman, and Whitlesy, of the same place, temporary Secretary.

A recess was then taken to appoint a Committee to report on permanent officers.

Friday Morning Dispatches.

THE VIRGINIA RADICALS—BOTTS AND HUNNICUTT ELEMENTS CAN'T BE MADE TO COALESCE—HUNNICUTT SEEMS TO HAVE THE UPPER HAND THUS FAR.

RICHMOND, Aug. 1, P. M.

At about eleven o'clock the doors of the African Church were opened and the building was instantly filled, still leaving about 200 blacks outside. Up to this time very few of the white Republicans recently appointed by the County Conventions had made their appearance. The whites present, numbering about fifty, being delegates who attended the April Convention.

A motion was made inside to adjourn to the Capitol Square, and the crowd outside, mistaking it to be carried, hurried off to that point.

Hunnicutt made a short address to those inside in favor of adjourning to the Square. He counselled harmony in the deliberations of the body. For they were this day looked to by the whole country, and by hundreds of thousands of blacks whose fathers had looked prayerfully forward to such a day as this.

The rebels of Richmond and their press were looking joyfully for a disturbance in the Convention, and he wanted them disappointed.

This was a mass Convention, that he wanted all Republicans represented in. Those who could not endorse the Republican platform, adopted by the Convention of April, might go home, as they were not wanted here.

Any men who came here to break up the Republican party in Virginia were scoundrels and hypocrites; and would meet the odium they merited.

A motion was adopted to appoint fifty able-bodied men to clear the ground and keep order for the Convention at the Capitol Square, to which place they adjourned.

Those who first arrived at the Square found a Conservative addressing about 1,000 blacks. He protested against three or four men ruling the Convention, or the overawing of the interior delegations by such an immense crowd from Richmond. The delegations would endorse the platform if they could only hear it. [A voice,—"You would have heard it if you had been here in April."]

An announcement was then made that the Convention was assembling on the other side of the Capitol, and some of the audience left.

Another Conservative Republican rose and commenced by protesting against proscribing any man now for his past political opinions. The Republican party was not, he said, strong enough in the State to throw away such aid. It was not strong enough in the North either. Look at Gen. Butler, who did more than any other man at the Charleston Convention to bring on this war.

A voice here cut the speaker short by announcing that the crowd must walk around to the other side. And it left en masse, jeering the speaker as it marched away.

On the other side was present the largest assemblage ever seen in Richmond, with a considerable sprinkling of whites.

Amid much confusion, caused by the immense crowd, Jno. Hanxhurst was chosen temporary chairman and Chas Whitticasy temporary Secretary.

A recess of two hours was had to give time for the appointment of a committee of one from each delegation.

The different delegations met under the trees in the square. In the mean-time the other wing had printed and distributed the following handbill:

"REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

The delegates to the State Convention of unconditional Union men, called to meet in the African Church in this city to-day at 12 o'clock, M, will meet in the Hall of the House of Delegates this evening at 8 o'clock, to perfect the organization of the Republican party of Virginia. Every delegate is requested to be prompt in attendance. None other than regularly appointed delegates will be admitted into the Hall.

[Signed] THE COMMITTEE OF ARRANGEMENTS."

[Later dispatches say that this meeting did not take place. Meetings of the Hunnicutt wing were held during the evening and at night, in which the Botts clique was denounced. Botts was sent for to explain himself, but declined to do so, saying that he would to-morrow.

The Hunnicutt wing continues the officers of the April Convention, and adopted their platform. Thus things stood at 11 o'clock to-night.]

REGISTRATION—MORE OF SHERIDAN'S DOINGS.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 1, P. M.

The registration in Louisiana has been completed, but it will take several weeks to revise the rolls. Many were registered under the Attorney General's opinion who will be stricken off. No accurate estimate of the State vote can be made now, but there is no doubt that the revised rolls will show a black majority.

Sheridan issued an order to-day removing the entire Board of Aldermen and Assistant Aldermen, and appointing their successors. The reasons given are the disordered condition to which they have reduced the City credit, and the efforts which they have made and are making to impede the lawful execution of the reconstruction act.

GOV. PEASE—THE YELLOW FEVER.

GALVESTON, Aug. 1st.—P. M.

The appointment of Pease gives satisfaction to the best men of all parties.

The Yellow Fever is steadily increasing in this city. The Physicians are urging the unacclimated away.

THE SURRATT TRIAL—ALABAMIANS URGE THE REMOVAL OF POPE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1, P. M.

In the Surratt trial to-day, Mr. Merrick resumed and concluded his argument for the defence.—The following were his closing remarks:

"There had been blood enough shed in this country, and it was now time that the flow had ceased. No man had a greater horror of the crime that resulted in the murder of Abraham Lincoln, than myself. Already four had been hung and others were suffering.

Three years ago there was, in this city, a happy household sitting beside a bright household fire. There sat a mother, a sister just budding into womanhood, and beside them a young man just reaching manhood. I would have the jury remember the changes that have come over that scene. The bright fire is extinguished, the mother sleeps in a nameless felon's grave, the daughter, burdened and broken-hearted, drags out a wretched life, and the son is here before you on trial for his life. May Almighty God so guide your judgment and enlighten your convictions, that the remembrance of the day and of your verdict may hereafter and forever be a sweet and pleasant recollection."

Mr. Bradley will probably make a short address to the Jury to-morrow.

A delegation of Alabamians waited on the President last evening and urged the removal of Gen. Pope, on the ground that his administration of affairs in District No. 3 was equally as obnoxious as Sheridan's.

The President merely stated that he would make a note of their grievances.

WHAT I LIVE FOR.

I live for those that love me,
Whose hearts are kind and true,
For the Heaven that smiles above me,
And awaits my spirit too.
For the human ties that bind me,
For the task by God assigned me,
For the bright hopes left behind me,
And the good that I can do.

I live to learn their story,
Who suffered for my sake,
To emulate their glory,
And follow in their wake.
Bards, poets, martyrs, sages,
The noble of all ages,
Whose deeds crowd history's pages,
And Time's great volume make.

I live to hold communion,
With all that is divine,
To know there is a union,
'Twixt Nature's God and mine—
To grow wiser from conviction,
To profit by affliction,
Reap truth from fields of fiction,
And fulfill each bright design.

I live to hail the season,
By gifted minds foretold,
When men shall live by reason,
And not a one by gold.
When man to man united,
And every wrong thing righted,
The whole world shall be lighted,
As Eden was of old.

I live for those who love me,
For the hearts that know me true,
For the Heaven that smiles above me,
And swaits my spirit too.
For the right that lacks assistance,
For the wrong that needs resistance,
For the future in the distance,
And the good that I can do.

DEPARTED CHILDREN.

No earthly affection is so powerful as the love of parents for their children. It might not be an easy task to say why it is so, but the experience of the race proves it to be true. It is easy, indeed, to offset it by cases of infanticide, and by particular instances of cruelty to children, as well as by certain unnatural national customs in regard to offspring. But with respect to such cases we need only say, that if the strongest passion is thus weakened and debased, the feebler ones must have fallen still lower.—When the love of offspring is obliterated from the human soul, and father and mother forget the child of their own blood, we shall look in vain for any other love. Parents, brothers, sisters, husbands, wives and all remote kin, aye, and country and race, must fall from the place in the human heart before the children do; so that not to love one's children is to hate everything.

We have intimated above that it might not be easy to give the reason of this supreme position of parental affection in the circle of human loves. Still there is one fact which seems of itself to make the question clear and that fact is found in the precious philosophy of our Saviour's words: 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.' The intensity of parental love does not arise mainly from the fact that they are flesh and bone and soul of ourselves, that we see in them our own features and our own dispositions. This similarity of blood and features and dispositions is full as great between children of the same family as between parent and child. Nay, brothers and sisters, children of the same parents, are, as it respects blood, precisely similar, while each parent can only claim to be half represented in the child. The wonderful power of parental love is found in the fact that Providence places the child in our hands a helpless little baby, which our unremitting watching and toil must save from the ten thousand deaths to which disease and accident expose it. Its daily and hourly life of dependence upon us, its feeding from our hand or breast, its sleeping on our bosom, or riding on our knee, its wearing us out in night vigils, or requiring its bread in the sweat of our face; the unnumbered assiduities of nursery duty, the life-long wear, the burdened spirit, never lightened under its load, though sometimes lightened by it, these and such as these, are the potent reasons for the strength of parental love. And herein we see why it is that a mother's love rises higher than a father's.

* * * * *

When we count or name our children let us count in and name those that are gone. When the children speak of brothers and sisters, let them speak of the dead. And as our natural earthly relations are divine, as the descent of our children from us is an eternal fact, a fact that nothing can alter, we may even dare to hope that those of them who have entered into rest will remember, or be informed of, the fact that they are still of us, that they are brother and sister spirits still to those that they have left. However this may be, and whatever reciprocity between the upper and lower portions of the family it might involve, it is quite certain that the thought itself is very sweet to bereaved parents. At all events let us keep our dead children in our hearts, and their names and memories verdant in our families.

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, Test Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 3d, 1867.]

WHEREAS, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district; North Carolina and South Carolina the second district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and to try offenders, or, when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference, under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized, affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions: Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law; and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same, and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature, elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supersede the same; and all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote, and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional governments who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX.
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER,

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th of the Supplementary Bill:

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval department of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowledge and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God," which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the Court, Houses of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. And any person who may falsely take said oath shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction, in addition to the penalties now prescribed for that offence, shall be deprived of his office, and rendered incapable, forever after, of holding any office or place under the United States.

Approved July 2, 1862.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God," which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each, representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represent the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general, within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5 That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers, and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."
